

FULL-STACK SOFTWARE ENGINEER

EUGENE YEO

I'm a full-stack developer with a passion for adventure, the outdoors and technical skills! I'm looking to grow a meaningful career in tech that revolves around problem-solving, collaboration & making a difference. I want to drive positive impact in the world and work on things that matter.

I love building things, and I get excited from people using the clean, intuitive and aesthetic apps I've built. My drive for tech reflects my passion for rock climbing, caving, canyoning & alpinism: building growth through learning, teaching, and working seamlessly as a team.

With a background in leading digital community engagement projects, I bring a creative mindset, curiosity, strong human skills, and sharp attention to detail in project collaborations.
